

INIT platform validators have been installed on the Nottingham Express Transit tram network to enable contactless card payment. The system automatically calculates the best fare, with capping. INIT is also adding contactless payments with capped fares to Link buses, following on from Nottingham City Transport buses. The final stage of the scheme will cover both trams and buses.